

Without the Band

By Shelley M. Chase,

Have you ever gone to a High School football game and not have a band there to perform? I haven't.

Sometimes "we" forget what the band means to Friday night games. There are some Friday night games that the band performs in only to have to go to a UIL competition the next day. Band members are dedicated; they work hard but are sometimes overlooked or under appreciated.

Sometimes they might be a little "off-key" because they are learning a new song or because they have new band members that aren't quite sure of themselves. For the most part though, this band does an awesome job whenever they play. The Marion High School Bulldog Band helps to make Friday night's fun and entertaining, at least for me.

The band is made of up a group of students ranging in ages from 12 to 18. If you think about that, it is a wonder that there are not more mistakes made but not surprisingly, these students are learning music as classical as "Phantom of the Opera" to "Hey Baby" to "Teenage Dream" AND they are doing a wonderful job!

I am proud of our MHS Band, not only as a mom, but as a Marion Band Booster and a fan of the Friday night entertainment.

Thank you Mr. Goodman and the Marion High School Bulldog Band, you make us PROUD!
